Plastics Industry

Insurance and Risk Management

The importance and impact of plastic manufacturing on our daily lives can often be underestimated, yet the British Plastics Federation estimates that the UK produces approximately 2,500 ktonnes of plastics every year*. In such a high production environment, businesses need to develop and evolve at alarming rates, resulting in a high number of emerging risks that you may not have considered previously, in addition to the high fire and liability risks associated with manufacturing – the need to review your insurance strategy could not be more vital.

Working With You

Choosing an insurance advisor who can understand the needs of your business is the key to long-term cost savings. We understand that every business has its own unique risk profile and work in partnership with our clients to identify and prioritise their own specific risks.

The plastics industry is constantly changing - new products, services, innovations and developing risks, set against an environment of increased customer expectation, litigation and time pressures - businesses in this sector need to rely on a risk consultancy that fully understands this sector and its trading risks.

We believe in developing a close relationship with you so that we can understand every aspect of your business and provide the tailored risk advice and solutions you need. Our team of experienced consultants have an unrivalled understanding of the plastics industry, risk assessment and insurance solutions, and where required, can even design and deliver a risk and insurance solution to reflect and manage your worldwide risks.

A Different Perspective

With over 40 years of experience in risk consultancy, we have established an enviable position within the insurance market, and have developed the vision required to identify the potential risks of tomorrow. Through the innovative thinking of our advisory team, we can provide you with impartial and practical advice - and ultimately the peace of mind - that you and your business are adequately protected.

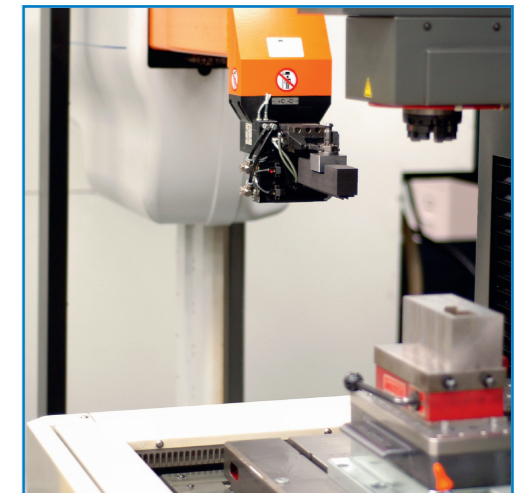

We offer an extensive range of insurance solutions and risk consultancy for both corporate businesses and private individuals, through our remaining nationwide divisions: Credit; Healthcare; Private Clients; Professions.

Our Credit division provides support to plastics businesses in respect of cash flow protection through credit insurance, political risk cover for businesses with overseas assets, and help with re-financing and corporate changes, such as MBOs.

Our Healthcare advisors will identify a plan that offers you the desired level of personal healthcare cover at a competitive price. Their corporate healthcare plans include corporate private medical insurance, trusts, flexible benefits, employee assistance schemes, group income protection, and sickness absence management.

Our Private Clients division specialise particularly within the insurance of high value homes and contents, though they offer an extensive range of personal insurance solutions, including residential let property, beach huts, overseas property, travel, yachts & boats, classic motors and personal accident.

Our Professions division primarily focuses on Professional Indemnity and Directors & Officers insurance. For the plastics industry, they can also offer coverage for Intellectual Property Rights Insurance and the risks of Cyber Liability, such as computer viruses and hacker attack.
